We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of GNV Advisors, LLC as of December 31, 2010, and the related statements of operations and member's capital and cash flows for the year then ended that the Company is filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of GNV Advisors, LLC as of December 31, 2010, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Note 1 - Nature of Business

GNV Advisors, LLC (the Company) is a Delaware limited liability company that is a limited broker-dealer, for the purpose of offering private placements. The Company serves high net worth individuals, as well as institutional clients mostly located in the United States.

The Company is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), and its membership was approved on October 23, 2008. The Company is wholly owned by Geneva Holding Company of Chicago, LLC (Member).

Note 2 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Aspects of the Limited Liability Company

As a limited liability company, the member's liability is limited to the capital invested. Under the operating agreement, the Company has one class of member interest. Allocation of profits, losses and distributions is in accordance with the terms as defined in the operating agreement. The Company shall remain in perpetuity unless sooner terminated, as provided in the operating agreement.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company maintains its cash in a brokerage account invested in money market sweep shares, which at times may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such account and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on such cash.

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company receives a fee for its services based on a percentage of the periodic management fee earned by the fund managers with which the Company places investor dollars. Fund managers typically earn fees periodically based on a percentage of the assets they manage as well as possible incentive based fees. The Company may also earn placement agent fees based on a percentage of assets raised. No placement agent fees were earned in 2010. Fees are recorded as revenue by the Company at the time the fund managers can earn and realize their respective management fees. Allowances for uncollectible accounts are determined at management's discretion based on experience with the client and the economic stability of the client. As of December 31, 2010, there are no account receivable balances; therefore, no amounts are provided for uncollectible accounts.

Customer Receivables

Customer receivable balances are carried at original invoice amount less estimates made for doubtful receivables. Receivables are written off when deemed uncollectible. Recoveries of receivables previously written off are recorded when received.

Management Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAPUSA) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Taxes

The Company is treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. Consequently, federal income taxes are not payable by, or provided for, the Company. The member is taxed individually on the Company's earnings. Accordingly, the financial statements do not reflect a provision for income taxes.

The Company's application of the Income Tax Topic regarding uncertain tax positions of GAAPUSA had no effect on its financial position as management believes the Company has no material unrecognized income tax benefits. The Company would account for any potential interest or penalties related to possible future liabilities for unrecognized income tax benefits as other expense. The Company is no longer subject to examination by tax authorities for federal, state or local income taxes for periods before 2008.

Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events through February 24, 2011, the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Note 3 - Uniform Net Capital Rule

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. The rule also provides that equity capital may not be withdrawn if the resulting capital ratio would exceed 10 to 1. As of December 31, 2010, the Company had net capital of $154,500, which was $149,500 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 5.69 to 1.

Note 4 - Commitment and Related Party Transactions

The Company has an expense-sharing arrangement with a company related through common ownership. It has been agreed by the parties that expenses will be allocated in accordance with the agreement. During 2010, $54,711 in expenses were allocated to the Company.

One of the fund managers with which the Company places investor dollars is wholly owned by three principals of the Company's parent. For the year ended December 31, 2010, revenues from contracts placed with this fund manager were $36,340.

Commission expenses during 2010 were paid to certain employees and principals of an affiliate which is 100% owned by the Company's parent.

Note 5 - Concentrations

For the year ended December 31, 2010, sales to one major customer amounted to more than 10% of total revenue. Revenues from this customer of $298,096 were earned during the first three quarters of 2010. Fourth quarter revenue was earned but not recognized, due to substantial doubt regarding its collectability. There was no receivable balance from this major customer as of December 31, 2010. The Company wrote off $198,731 of receivables from this customer in 2010.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control

Member
GNV Advisors, LLC
Chicago, Illinois

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of GNV Advisors, LLC (the Company) as of and for the year ended December 31, 2010, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for retail customers or perform retail custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13.
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment of securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control and control activities for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate as of December 31, 2010, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the member, management, the SEC, FINRA and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
